Town of Ossining

Ossining, NY

Town Supervisor Dana Levenberg

Pledge Summary

The Town of Ossining is located in the Lower Hudson Valley with a population of approximately 38,000 including residents in the unincorporated area of the town and two villages. The Town has a history of making eco-friendly programs available to residents and routinely seeks guidance and advice from Master Gardeners and experts at a local nature preserve. Recently it passed legislation to allow beekeeping, which specifically requires beekeepers to provide a food source for their bees so they do not compromise the existing food sources for native pollinators. Town Supervisor Dana Levenberg is committed to saving the monarch butterfly and other pollinators, through the efforts listed in this application and other methods. She looks forward to continued engagement with residents regarding the protection and creation of habitats for pollinators.
