City of Coralville

Coralville, IA

Mayor Meghann Foster

Pledge Summary

Coralville, Iowa is a community of just under 23,000 people. Since 2013, we have been selecting 3-5 acres per year to either convert to prairie with special attention to pollinator plants, or reinforcing existing planting areas with pollinator habitat plant species. In addition, we have made changes to our requests from local developers in plant species to create pollinator habitat in every new development in Coralville. We estimate that we've created or reinforced approximately sixty acres to date.
