Hillsborough Township

Hillsborough, NJ

Mayor Catherine Payne

Pledge Summary

Hillsborough Township, located in Somerset Country, is centrally located in the state of New Jersey with a population approaching 45,000. Hillsborough spans over 50 square miles and offers over 15 public parks through the municipality. Mayor Payne and the Township Committee have committed to supporting the Mayors Monarch pledge through action item projects accomplished throughout the town. Hillsborough's plans include to not only continue the beautification of its parks, but to also provide natural habitats for the monarch butterflies throughout the community. This would be Hillsborough's second year participating in the Mayors Monarch Pledge. Last year we had planted multiple pollinator gardens, hosted community education sessions and provided information to residents which provided guidance should they want to create their own pollinator gardens on their property. Please note that while we will be selecting action items, we will be confirming throughout the year initiatives we're able to accomplish based on budget, staff and community involvement
