Howell Township

Howell, NJ

Mayor John Leggio

Pledge Summary

Howell Township is a township in Monmouth County, in the state of New Jersey. The township is the largest municipality in the county by total area, comprising about 61.21 square miles. The Manasquan Reservoir, a 1,204-acre site operated by the Monmouth County Park System, is one of Howell's most ecologically significant areas which provides habitat for monarchs, native pollinators, nesting bald eagles, ospreys, great blue herons, and migratory waterfowl. Howell Township has over 2,000 acres of parks. The Howell Environmental Commission works with local and regional partners to preserve open space, and implement native planting projects including monarch and pollinator gardens.
